CITIZENS OF SAN FERNANDO VALLEY MEET AND DISCUSS QUESTIONS OF INTEREST

The regular meeting of the Greater Glendale Development Association was held at the usual place, the library room of the Intermediate School, Tuesday evening. The attendance was large, there being a number of Burbank citizens present. The meeting was presided over by Norton C. Wells, president of the Association and C. D. Lusby, secretary, was at his accustomed place.

The first order of business taken up was a discussion of the water bond question, which discussion was opened by H. B. Lynch, engineer of the Public Service Department. Mr. Lynch is thoroughly conversant with the water supply of Glendale and outlined clearly and briefly what is needed in the way of improvements and extensions to make the plant of greater service to its patrons. An article was published in the Evening News of Saturday, June 7th, over the signature of Mr. Lynch, which gave a detailed explanation of why the citizens of Glendale should vote for the $196,000 bond issue at next Tuesday's election.

At the close of the talk given by Mr. Lynch a motion prevailed that the chair appoint a committee of five persons, whose duty it will be to give the proper publicity to the forthcoming election. The members of the committee are C. L. Chandler, Capt. D. Ripley Jackson, V. M. Hollister, James G. Owen, H. B. Lynch.

The telephone question was then taken up for discussion. A Mr. Stevenson, of Burbank, was introduced and gave a very instructive talk on wireless telephonic progress in the United States. Mr. Stevenson had just returned from San Francisco where he had visited the Morehouse Wireless plant which supplied wireless apparatus to the U. S. Government during the war. Mr. Davis, of Burbank, also spoke on the wireless telephonic system and illustrated the workings of this system by drawings on the blackboard.

C. F. Fairly, a representative of the Kellogg Telephone Supply House, was present and upon request gave some valuable information as to the operation of independent and mutual telephone systems.

Mr. Fairly advocated a municipal telephone plant for Glendale, and said it was the only way of overcoming the crushing power of the old line company. Others spoke on the advantages of a municipal telephone system. City Trustee G. B. Woodberry announced that the expert engineer employed by the city to ascertain as to the approximate cost of a municipal system would be ready to report Thursday evening of this week at the meeting of the Board of Trustees in the City Hall.

ORMOND BRADLEY HAS GRUESOME SOUVENIRS

Ormond Bradley of 523 Oak street who recently returned from overseas, went to work soon after he got back, with the Standard Oil Co. at El Segundo, where his father and brother Howard were already working. Joe Hartley also commenced work there this week. Ormond has some rather gruesome relics in the shape of shells from a gun used in one of the baby tanks. One of the lot he has was being examined by a brother soldier over there when it exploded, killing him. Ormond also has a double eagle badge taken from an officer's helmet, a "Gott mitt uns" belt and some rings made from wrecked guns. He says he could have sold dozens of them at $1 apiece when he got to the port of embarkation and scores of the belts at $10 each, as the war ended so suddenly that many soldiers were unable to pick up any mementoes before they left the front.

GREETED OLD FRIEND

L. W. Babcock of 413 North Isabel had the pleasure yesterday of shaking hands with his old friend, P. J. Reifel, mayor of Rocky Ford, Colo., Mr. Babcock's home city. Mr. Reifel was accompanied by his son, Philip, Jr. He has leased a cottage in Long Beach for two months and there he and his wife, son and daughter will enjoy the summer days. The daughter is attending U. S. C. and her mother came two months ago to be with her. Mr. Reifel has been in business in Rocky Ford for 30 years. He now handles seed exclusively, chiefly melon and cucumber, and has a large business with Imperial Valley growers. Mr. Babcock took his old friend over the city and introduced him to some of the leading business men. He says this is Mr. Reifel's fifth visit to Southern California and he is now throwing out strong inducements for him to locate in Glendale.

A BACCALAUREATE

SERVICE FOR GRADUATING CLASS OF GLENDALE SANITARIUM

On Sabbath, June 7th, the baccalaureate service was held in the Seventh-Day Adventist Church on the corner of Wilson avenue and Isabel street, at 10:45 a. m. The church was crammed to the utmost limit with an attentive and interested audience who listened to Elder G. A. Snyder, former pastor and chaplain, now of Long Beach, deliver the sermon. His text was "Watch and Pray." Matthew 26:41. He remarked upon the appropriateness of this injunction when addressed to a class of nurses. That constituted one of the chief duties of the nurse in the sick room. And when one was devoted to prayer how natural to watch for the answer to prayer. Indeed, the praying man always does look for an answer. Then how essential is prayer to the nurse and doctor! The anxiety felt on so many occasions when the patient's life seems hanging in the balance, what a relief to be able to pray to a higher and mightier power for the help that no mortal can give! Thank God for the privilege of prayer.

But it is the fashion nowadays to make light of prayer and to decry it (Continued on Page 3)

STILL PRICES TREND UPWARD

Now comes a raise of several cents a pound on ground chocolate. As tea and coffee have for months been skyrocketing in price, the American drinker is in hard lines. Six months ago we were promised early reductions in many articles of food, but none have materialized. Instead there has been a steady rise in prices of many commodities and the end is not yet.

BOOSTING FOR GLENDALE

A. L. Lawshe and wife of 620 N. Maryland avenue spent Sunday at Redondo Beach with relatives. By the way, Mr. Lawshe is making earnest endeavors to add two good citizens to Glendale's population. His son-in-law and daughter are now living in a small Nevada town near the Idaho border, 130 miles from a railway, where the son-in-law is holding down a government position from which he will be released July 1st. He and his wife expect then to come to Glendale, buy a five-acre ranch and raise poultry. Mr. Lawshe expects to buy an acre tract near them and put up a cosy home where he can occupy himself with a garden and fruit.

EQUIPMENT FOR SALE

The Glendale Red Cross Chapter has been disposing of its superfluous fixtures now that its production departments have been discontinued. It still has a few on hand, however, the list including two water coolers, some surgical apparatus used by the home nursing class, and a white enamel cupboard, which are for sale at very reasonable figures.

THEIR PERQUISITES

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEES ENJOY DINNER SERVED BY DOMESTIC SCIENCE GIRLS

Echoes of the wonderful banquet enjoyed by the Trustees of Glendale Union High and a few other favored guests reverberating through the community led the reporter on a still hunt for official information. Dr. Bryant, as one of the lions of the Board, was tracked to his lair which in this case proved to be the office of Business Manager Irving H. Oliver. There the official was putting his "John Hancock" on the sheepskins preparing for graduates while Mr. Oliver hovered around to see that he did it right. Those diplomats are of such concern to Mr. Oliver that an uninformed onlooker might imagine they were Liberty Bonds or certificates of stock which constitute his private fortune. In a way they are certificates of the kind of stock the high school is turning out as its contribution to the good citizenship of the community and in the opinion of the majority of people it is stock which ranks above par and which will always be at a premium.

When the subject of the banquet was delicately mentioned as the doctor paused to dip his pen, into his eyes came a dreamy look of reminiscence as he murmured: "A perfect dinner, beautifully cooked, beautifully served at tables beautifully decorated. If all women could cook like that, the peace of the world would be assured."

An appeal to Mr. Oliver, who was also a guest, brought instant confirmation. "A great dinner!" he exclaimed. (Continued on Page 4)

BOTH SIDES CLAIM STRIKE VICTORY

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPHERS LARGELY STAY ON JOBS—MORE OF POSTAL UNION QUITTING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, June 11—Conflicting claims regarding the telegraphers, strike called against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies this morning left some doubt as to the actual situation. The Western Union officials claimed that the service was unimpaired and that very few men quit. Postal representatives said the service was being maintained.

Reports from over the country indicated that at most points employees of the Western Union had remained on their jobs, but that Postal employees had largely struck. In New York it was declared that not over half a dozen Western Union men quit. More quit at the Postal, but the numbers were indefinite. Strike leaders said that only four Postal operators remained on their jobs.

Pickets were active. President Carlton of the Western Union said he had received reports from all parts of the country showing "full force working and traffic is clearing."

In Chicago, President Konenkamp of the Telegraphers' Union expressed satisfaction and said he would predict that sixty thousand would strike. In Chicago the Western Union office reported all men working. Union sources said that 200 men had quit in Philadelphia. In Washington, the Western Union declared that none had quit. The Union claimed that many had struck in the southern states.

LOS ANGELES, June 11—Western Union representatives here declare that not one employee struck this morning in Southern California, but that the Postal Telegraph Company is apparently hard hit. Union representatives said that all but three operators of the Postal had quit. The company refused to make any statement.

RUSSIAN DIFFICULTIES INCREASE

OMSK GOVERNMENT HEADED BY ADMIRAL KOLCHAK, TURNS DOWN PROPOSITION OF ALLIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 11—It was authoritatively learned today that Admiral Kolchak's Russian government, which has its headquarters at Omsk, replying to the allies' proposals for conditional recognition of his government, rejected practically all of its conditions. Acting for his government he refused to recognize Finnish independence, refused to summon a constituent assembly as elected in 1917, declaring the majority were Bolsheviks, and demanded the right to determine the disposition of all outlying Russian territory.

The "Big Four" today completed work on that part of the German counter proposals covering reparation. It is understood they refused to set a definite sum for the indemnity.

AUSTRIAN PROTESTS

TAKE THE FORM OF COUNTER PROPOSALS SIMILAR TO THOSE OF GERMANY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ST. GERMAIN, June 11—Chancellor Renner, heading the Austrian Peace delegation, forwarded to the allies today the first protest against the treaty. Vienna reports indicate that the protests take the form of counter proposals similar to those of Germany.

MAKING WAR ON BURLESON

FEDERAL POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES PASS RESOLUTION DENOUNCING BURLESON AND ASK HIS REMOVAL

ATLANTIC CITY, June 11—George A. Tracy of San Francisco today denied before the American Federation of Labor convention, the reports that the California unions plan to withdraw from the federation.

The federal postoffice employees introduced a resolution denouncing Postmaster General Burleson and asking President Wilson to remove him. They asked the assistance of the federation in their campaign against Burleson's control of postal policies.

TREATY "LEAK" PROBE IN SENATE

ELIHU ROOT TESTIFIES HE HAS HAD COPY OF TREATY FOR TWO WEEKS AND IT IS PUBLIC PROPERTY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, June 11—Elihu Root today voluntarily appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations committee in its treaty "leak" probe. He declared that he had possessed a copy of the treaty for two weeks, that he got it from Henry P. Davison, a New York financier and head of the American Red Cross, and that Davison had a perfect right to it because since Germany had published the treaty, the document was public property. He resented Senator Hitchcock's charge that the treaty was "stolen goods." He said he did not know where Davison got the treaty.

Frank A. Vanderlip, the next witness, began his testimony with the declaration that France and England think the United States should cancel war loans to them totalling over nine billions. J. P. Morgan and Henry Davison expect to follow Vanderlip as witnesses.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR

FORMAL OPENING OF J. A. NEWTON CO.'S NEW SERVICE STATION

Ablaze with light and beauty was the new, three-room establishment of the J. A. Newton Electric Co., at 629-31-33 East Broadway, on Tuesday evening, June 10th. The occasion for all this was the grand opening of the new Eveready Service Station, which Mr. Newton has recently installed as an addition to his fast-growing electrical business. While the service station with its up-to-date equipment was the main attraction for motorists, the other two rooms, stocked with electrical appliances and conveniences of all kinds, took the attention of the other guests, especially the ladies. From before 8 until after 10 the place was thronged with happy and appreciative guests, who roamed about the brilliantly lighted rooms and gazed upon the wonderful household aids so attractively displayed. The rooms were fragrant with flowers of varied hue and electric fans kept the air stirring so no discomfort was felt amid the constant crowding. In the service station were seen batteries ready to be charged by the Eveready system, others in process of renewal and auto appliances of every kind, with the big motor-generator humming along instinct with power. In the other rooms, under the softened, yet brilliant, light shed by dozens of fixture designs a veritable hive of industry was disclosed. Cooking ranges, vacuum cleaners, washing and ironing machines, sewing machines and, crowning feat of all, a dish washing machine, all electrically operated, held the ladies' eager attention, especially the latter. All this time three waffle irons were kept busy turning out their delicious product, to be eagerly devoured by the guests. Grills, toasters and percolators also received their share of attention. The west show window was made up with Hoover vacuum cleaners and the display was both novel and beautiful. Portable lamps, table lamps and stately piano lamps were scattered here and there, giving a "homey" aspect to the rooms, and the Pathephone discoursed sweet music almost constantly. Mr. Newton certainly should be gratified by the large response to his invitations to this most pleasant affair and by the warm interest displayed by the many guests, who felt that he has given to the city's business life a distinct and highly worthy addition.

GUESTS AT PASADENA

Rev. C. H. Scott and Arthur Lindley represented the First Methodist Church of this city as guests at a "Father and Son" banquet given at the First Methodist Church of Pasadena Tuesday evening. Mr. Scott, who was one of the speakers, was accompanied by his ten-year-old son, Warren Scott. His theme was "The Christian Brother." After the banquet was over, learning that the New Century Club of Pasadena was in session, Mr. Scott dropped in on that. It is a civic and literary organization of Methodist membership of which he was president for two years, and to which he is still closely attached. He there responded to a call for an impromptu address and rounded out a very full evening.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Myers of 1203 South Central avenue on Sunday, June 8th, celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at a dinner given in their honor at the home of Mrs. Myers' brother, Dr. A. M. Duncan, at 1607 San Fernando Road. There were present their daughters, Misses Ida and Harriet Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Hillman, and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Duncan and son, Arthur—who has just returned from army service, Dr. Duncan and his daughters, Carol and Lois Duncan. The color scheme of the table carried out in the flowers and appointments, was yellow.

DEATH OF H. W. GARDNER

Harry W. Gardner of 307 North Kenwood died Tuesday afternoon at Thornycroft Hospital, after an illness of but a few days. He drank copiously of ice water the first of the extremely hot days recently experienced and that aggravated kidney trouble from which he was suffering, causing his death. He leaves a wife and son here in Glendale and two married daughters in Augusta, Montana, his former home. The remains are now at the Pulliam Undertaking Co. parlors awaiting word from the Montana relatives before funeral arrangements are made. Mr. Gardner had lived in Glendale over a year and was 60 years of age.

JAPANESE DAY

FLOWERY KINGDOM DOMINATES PROGRAM AT TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

A Japanese stage setting of lanterns and streamers advertised that Tuesday was Japanese Day at the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and interest in the theme was proved by the large audience in attendance.

The simple program consisted of vocal numbers by Miss Viola Yorba, who sang "At Dawning," followed by a charming lullaby, and then the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Hafe Gawa, of Los Angeles, was introduced, a native Japanese now engaged in Americanization work among her countrywomen in the Angel City, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

The talk she made, though clearly a considerable effort, was perfectly understandable in spite of the little Japanese inflections which occasionally manifested themselves. It was so modest and so beautifully courteous in its appeal to American women to overlook racial differences, that she won the warm sympathy and approval of her audience who paid her frequent tributes of applause. She naturally emphasized the oneness of women in spite of their differing natures and tried to show that they are "sisters under the skin." She said:

"When people so different come in contact it is almost never that they can understand each other. But I would refer you to a saying of one of your own men: 'At every moment in our lives we should be trying to find out not in what we differ from others, but in what we agree with them.' I believe this statement expresses a thought that will uplift humanity and produce world-wide peace."

"The facts of modern life are compelling us to realize more and more that you and I are one in essentials, although we may differ in minor details."

"I do not know how you feel, but when I stand before you like this I do not feel very much difference between you and me. I feel quite at home with you as I do with my own people in my own country. We differ in customs and social life, but in fundamentals we are one."

"In dress, for instance, to take a concrete illustration. Sometimes American ladies say: 'I just love the Japanese dress.' But when you know the real Japanese dress it is very different from those you see in the Japanese stores in Los Angeles for they are not the kind we wear in our own country. Of course the (Continued on Page 4)

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. WOODMANSEE

Mrs. Laura L., wife of A. E. Woodmansee, died at the home, 462 West California avenue, Monday, June 9th, from a stroke of apoplexy. She and her husband came to Los Angeles from Woonsocket, South Dakota, last February. Three weeks ago they bought a little home in Glendale intending to spend the remainder of their days here. They intended to go back to Woonsocket the last of July to dispose of their property so that all their interests would be here. Mr. Woodmansee will leave tomorrow for the old home, taking the body there for interment. Mrs. Woodmansee was 63 years of age.

ARE PROTESTING AGAINST STREET WORK DELAY

While many property owners are protesting against street work being done the residents of Oak street west of Pacific avenue are protesting because they can't get their street work put in. They say a petition almost unanimously signed was presented long ago and they are very anxious that the street be paved and walks and curbs added where not already in, before bad weather comes this fall. It is understood that Oak, W. Harvard and W. Elk, west of Pacific avenue, also Cherry street, will be improved this year.

An entertaining and instructive lecture will be given in the West Glendale M. E. Church, South Pacific avenue and West Harvard, Thursday evening, June 12th, 8 o'clock, under auspices of Epworth League. B., ornithologist, assisted by highly talented musical artists, namely: Miss Louain Allen Harrison, a beautiful and brilliant soprano soloist from San Francisco, and a gifted young lady Whistler of Glendale, who will imitate the various bird calls. GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1919

THE QUESTION UP TO THE PEOPLE

Since January 1st last, there has been a great deal said against the actions of the Pacific Telephone Company in ordering an increase in exchange rates and in ordering a toll charge between Glendale and Los Angeles. Many threats were made, many phones were ordered out by patrons, and a protest signed by about 1600 telephone users is in the hands of Captain Jackson, ready to turn over to the company the moment he gets orders from the Greater Glendale Development Association, which organization is awaiting a report from the City Trustees.

The way conditions are now, the Glendale telephone exchange is greatly crippled in rendering efficient service. So many phones have been ordered out on account of excessive exchange rates that henceforth it will be impossible to have a complete service in the community. The only way to remedy this defect is through the co-operation of the people of Glendale by the installation of a municipal telephone system in which instance the service would be fixed at a rate that would allow practically every household to possess a phone.

The whole question is up to the people and whatever they decide to do will be the controlling order. So far as the Evening News is concerned it is first, last and all the time in favor of a local telephone system that will give real service to the people.

GREATER GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION ENDORSES WATER BONDS

The Greater Glendale Development Association held its regular meeting at the Intermediate School last evening. Among the subjects brought up was a discussion of the proposed water bonds by H. B. Lynch, Engineer of the Public Service Department. At the conclusion of the discussion, questions were asked by various members present, and the Association then, by a unanimous vote, gave its endorsement to the proposed issue.

The city has owned its water system for the last five years. At that time $248,000.00 water bonds were issued and the existing water systems taken over. Since that time there have been seven annexations to the city, and the population and area to be served have doubled. Further bonds to the extent of $55,500.00 have been issued and larger improvements have been made from the surplus income, but these represent only a fraction of the growth. There is a larger amount of needed development which should be done to meet the rapid growth.

A larger reservoir is needed at a higher level. The amount of water being used requires that the supply of water be doubled, and mains are needed at various places throughout the city to furnish either higher pressure or more water.

The present source of water in the Verdugo Canon is mostly from surface streams. During the past few years the floor of the canon has developed into a residential subdivision, and regard for the health of the community no longer permits us to obtain our water from these surface streams. The water must be taken from deep wells, further up the canon, and from a point where its purity can be assured in the future. This means wells and pumping plant in the canon, a pipe line down to the new main reservoir, a larger and higher reservoir and a 30 inch pipe connecting this reservoir to the present mains. A new unit is needed to double the capacity of the pumping plant on the San Fernando Road, and more water rights should be purchased in the canon.

In lowering the water from the new wells in the canon to the main reservoir, a steady and profitable amount of power can be developed, and provision is made for doing so.

The total amount of the issue to do this work is $196,000.00. The election will be held next Tuesday.

ANOTHER HARBOR VOTED

Orange county is determined to be "in the swim" on the deep sea harbor question, having by a decisive vote Tuesday declared in favor of a $500,000 bond issue to improve Newport harbor.

SENATE WILL FIGHT PEACE TREATY

The fight on the peace treaty has begun in the United States Senate. Knox' resolution notifying the peace conference to expect opposition to the treaty in its present form was passed. There is a deep resentment felt and not by Republicans alone, over the withholding of the text of the treaty from the Senate while allowing it to circulate in Germany and Austria, and their giving it out to newspapers and financial magnates before the Senate could obtain a copy.

DEAD HAS COME TO LIFE

The Alumni Association which during the past two years has been very inactive owing to so many of its live members being in the army, has come to life again and is planning to celebrate. So many of the boys have just recently returned from Overseas and different parts of the United States and a get-together evening is anticipated by every one.

The celebration is going to take the form of a dance, Wednesday, June 25th, at the Masonic Temple. Miss Rebecca Gregg, president of the organization and just recently back from Berkeley, has taken charge of the affair. The best music possible has been secured for the evening and all that is necessary to make the dance the most successful of the season is that all of Glendale High's graduates put aside their fears of being crowded out by the younger social set and come and enjoy themselves with the old crowd.

A Senior or Alumnus may bring an outside guest if they so desire, but no one is entitled to admission unless accompanied by either a Senior or an Alumnus. To cover the expenses of this dance a minimum charge of seventy-five cents per couple or fifty cents apiece will be charged. It was planned to give the usual reception to the graduating class, but the condition of the treasury made this impossible and so the next best thing was arranged. It is hoped that every Alumnus will plan to be there and help make this the jolliest evening since before the war.

EGYPTIANS ALSO PLEAD WILSON'S 14 POINTS

PARIS. (By Mail).—How seriously Egyptians are protesting British rule and some of the reasons therefor are revealed in a letter received today from a British soldier stationed in Egypt. Inasmuch as the Egyptians are urging Wilson's declarations in behalf of the rights of small nations in support of their contention that the British protectorate assumed in December, 1914, should cease now that hostilities have ended, Americans may find the situation interesting.

"The causes of the present open defiance of the British," the soldier writes, "are many and varied, and on the whole do not reflect any great credit on the present administration of the country by the English. When England first entered the country, some 37 years ago, as the result of a decision by the Great Powers, Egypt was on the verge of bankruptcy as the result of extravagance and misrule by Turkey.

"One of the greatest causes of dissatisfaction in Egypt is the system of 'capitulations.' These are laws by which the subjects of European powers are not subject to the ordinary laws of Egypt. When a foreigner commits a crime he can only be tried with the sanction to his own government and only before a mixed tribunal composed mostly of his own nationals. England has promised they shall cease during the present year.

"When England entered Egypt it was with three announced objects—First, to restore the financial status of the country, second, to abolish capitulations, and, third, to educate the Egyptians to a point where they could govern themselves. In the first two they have succeeded. Egypt is in good financial condition and it is promised capitulations shall end soon. But in the third object, failure has been the result.

"England introduced a system of secondary education of a secular character on Western lines, without considering the Egyptians are an Oriental people. A system of education totally separated from the Mohammedan faith brought about a state of resentment.

"Then a lot of Englishmen were imported to take fat Government jobs, regardless of their fitness, leaving only minor jobs to the Egyptians. The Egyptians are divided into two classes: the Effendi, or educated class, and the Fellahien, or peasants. The greatest ambition of the Effendi is to obtain a job in the civil service or become a lawyer. Young Egyptians flocked to the schools and equip themselves for handling the greater part of the government work. However, they find these jobs are mostly reserved for Englishmen, often no more capable than themselves.

"Consequently there is a large class of educated unemployed. Out of this class was born the Nationalist party, fifteen years ago. Recruits were gained through the natural objection of a Mohammedan to being ruled by a Christian.

"Another cause for trouble is the close alliance of many families with Turkish families. They view the breaking up of Turkey with dismay as the breaking up of their religion. "So much for the wealthier class. The Fellahien, wholly uneducated and living to themselves on little bits of land, have for the most part obtained real benefits from British rule; irrigation, abolition of forced labor, limitation of conscription, protection from Bedouin marauders, etc. They have been apparently grateful and contented. Hence it is difficult to account for their attitude.

"British policy is now one of conciliation, but it will take a long time to regain the good will of the masses. The present trouble is far more serious than generally appreciated and it is a question which way it will result."

as inconsistent with the laws of nature. A lad asked at prayer meeting that those present would pray for his older sister that she might be led to read the Bible and pray. His request was complied with and immediately after the company arose from their knees the boy left the place and hastened home. Afterwards the leader met him and asked him if he was not rather rude to go out as he did. He replied with some feeling that he did not mean to be rude, but he wanted very much to run home and see how sister would look reading the Bible for the first time in her life. This illustrates the faith of all who pray right. They expect results and they see them. The lad was not disappointed when he reached home he found his sister reading her Bible, a thing she had never done before.
He showed how prayer did not interfere with the fixed and immutable laws of nature. A father might catch his falling child and save her life without disturbing in any way the operation of the law of gravity.
We may co-operate with these fixed laws and get results without disturbing their action in the least. Just as the law of light, as we see it in the sunlight, may be utilized in the camera to get a beautiful photograph so we may utilize the light that shines in the beams of the sun of righteousness to produce in the soul the image of Jesus Christ. We may harness these laws of nature and make them do our bidding. How much more can God do this in producing manifest miracles.
The war and the influenza epidemic sadly interfered with the work of the Sanitarium the past year, but the results on the whole were most gratifying in every department of the work.

Elder Alexander Ritchie, wife and two children started one day last week to Vancouver, B. C., which will be Elder Ritchie's headquarters in his evangelistic work.

So far as known all students from Glendale who have been attending the State University at Berkeley have returned, the list including Rebecca Gregg, Wayne Smith, Katherine Renshaw, Marjorie Imler and Iris Bannock.

W. S. Hartley has the foundation in for a three-room house on his lot at 555 Oak street. He intends to move the two-room house they are now living in up to the west side of the new part, thus giving them a cosy, five-room residence.

Mrs. G. K. Barnes of North Brand boulevard had expected to start today for the east, but is delaying her departure as she has just been advised that her husband's sister is en route to this coast and will be their guest for a week. She is expected to arrive Saturday.

Miss Marian, young daughter of J. H. Springer and wife, 534 Oak street, has had to lose several weeks of school on account of a loosened twelfth rib, which, pressing on vital organs, caused intense pain. She is slowly recovering under judicious treatment and hopes to be able to resume school in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Adams of 153 South Pacific avenue have motored north on a vacation trip with Bakersfield as their objective. They will visit Mr. Smith, father of Mrs. Adams, also Mrs. Greggs, who as Miss Lily Smith was a teacher in the Glendale schools before her marriage, and who has many friends here.

Mrs. Jessie Cooksey expects to close her photographic studio on Brand and Lomita about two weeks hence, and to go to Murieta Hot Springs, Catalina and other points for a few weeks' vacation before taking possession of the new studio being built for her and Mrs. MacMullin at 217 North Brand boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Roberts of 462 Hawthorne street are moving to Redondo this week. Mr. Roberts, who is in the employ of the Southern Pacific, has been transferred from Los Angeles to the beach city. They are sorry to leave and hope fate will return them to Glendale. They will be much missed by their friends.

M. McNaughton and wife have bought the W. Baldwin residence, store and stock of general merchandise, as well as the Jackson oil station at the southeast corner of Colorado and South San Fernando Road. They came here from Rivera. The Baldwins have moved to Los Angeles and the Jacksons have gone east.

Friends of Mrs. Frank C. Ayars, who is now with her widowed mother in Racine, Wis., assisting her to close up her estate, writes they have a good prospect of selling their home and she hopes it will be quickly concluded so she can bring her mother to the land of sunshine as she is very much worn by her vigils at the bedside of her husband.

A novel attempt at auto banditry is reported by two autoists who were held up on Verdugo Road near Glassell Park by barbed wire stretched across the road just high enough to saw off their heads had not the windshield protected them. They seemed to think it was the intent of the bandits to catch some auto with no windshield attached, disable or kill the occupants with the wire, then rob the bodies.

Mr. and Mrs. De Los H. Smith, their son Wayne and Miss Dorothy Hobbs returned by auto from Berkeley, California, Monday night, somewhat tired but enthusiastic over the many interesting features of the journey and the good time they had in Berkeley. While en route home they stopped over night at Sacramento where they visited the capitol, and stopped in Fresno where they saw the Browns.

The eighth birthday of little Madeline Bellue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bellue of 352 Myrtle street, was celebrated with a family dinner party Sunday evening, at which covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cross of Los Angeles, Mrs. Cora D. Clark, Stella, Emily, Spencer Bellue, Mr. and Mrs. Bellue and the small guest of honor. A handsome birthday cake was a conspicuous feature of the celebration.

The West Glendale Methodist Church had a highly successful Children's Day last Sunday which included a wonderfully good program from the junior classes and primary room. Especially pretty was a number put on by the third year primary, a violet and buttercup song by little girls in flower costumes. It was in several parts and the children showed the results of the fine drilling they had received. There was a large attendance and all who came seemed to enjoy themselves.

Those present to meet the honoree were Misses Louise Gonzales, Edna Burson, Elizabeth Allen, Leota Snyder and Marcella Orth. The young ladies attended the Orpheum.

UNINTENTIONAL MISREPRESENTATION

C. F. Fairly, who addressed the members of the Greater Glendale Development Association, Tuesday evening, on account of a lack of authentic information said in case a municipal telephone system would be installed in Glendale it would be necessary for the city to take over the holdings of the present telephone plant at a price fixed by the State Railway Commission. At the close of the meeting City Attorney W. E. Evans informed a representative of the Evening News that there is no law that would require the city to purchase the Pacific Telephone holdings in Glendale, and the statement made by Mr. Fairly was incorrect.

CLASS PICNIC

The Young People's Class of the Congregational Sunday School, their teacher, Rev. E. H. Willisford, Mrs. Willisford, and the parents of members, enjoyed a picnic at Echo Park Tuesday evening. Richards and son Hanford, Miss Edith Watanan, Miss Lillian McGibbon, Mr. and Mrs. Willisford. Because of other engagements several of the class were unable to go, but those who went had a very good time.

MAJOR BLOMMAERT AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH TONIGHT

Major Blommaert, special representative of the King of Belgium to the churches of the United States, speaks tonight at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Church. The Major is Chief Chaplain of the Protestant Chaplains' Corps of the Belgian Army, and was in the thick of the fighting throughout the war period. He comes to express to the church people of America the thankfulness of the Belgian people and churches for the help rendered in their time of great need, and to tell of the plans which are now being carried out for the reconstruction of the religious institutions of their stricken land. His address will give Glendallians their best close-up view of what the war meant to Belgium and what American relief did for her.

Charles Winsel, Belgian consul at Los Angeles, who is a citizen of Glendale, will be present and give a short talk, also.

ARE ON THEIR WAY HOME

E. L. Smith and wife of Battle Creek, Mich., who have been visiting for two months past with E. L.'s parents, Geo. Smith and wife, of 410 East Broadway, started on the home journey last evening. They went by train to Fresno, where they will be met today by Prof. Cady and wife and taken for a visit to Yosemite National Park and Berkeley. At San Francisco they again take the train and will proceed on home by the northern route, through British Columbia.

CLUB FUNCTIONS

The Shakespeare Section is to hold its annual picnic next Monday at Monrovia Canyon when Mrs. E. D. Yard will be introduced as the curator for next year. The two guests of honor of the section will be Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, the retiring president of the club, and Mrs. A. W. Tower, the incoming president.

The annual luncheon of the club will be served in the banquet hall of the First Methodist Church, Tuesday, June 24th, at 1 o'clock. All members and friends are invited. Tickets and reservations can be secured from Mrs. C. H. Bott.

LAST MEETING OF SEASON

The Pacific Parent-Teacher Association will hold its last meeting for the season Thursday, June 12th, at 2:15 p. m., at the schoolhouse. Miss Helen White, teacher of agriculture, will be the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Robert Yost will sing a group of songs, accompanied upon the piano by Miss Gertrude Champlain.

CITRUS TOPWORKING DEMONSTRATED

Farm Advisor Hodgson will demonstrate the topworking of citrus trees under the auspices of the Burbank center of the County Farm Bureau on Wednesday afternoon, June 18th, at the place of C. W. Cook of Hansen Heights, located on the Roscoe-Sunland road. Recent surveys of A. D. Shamel and others have indicated that fully 25 per cent. of bearing citrus trees in Southern California are slackers. There are only two ways of getting rid of slackers, either by pitting them up and replanting with trees of known parentage, or topworking. This latter is the most economical when given expert attention. The Farm Advisor will demonstrate how they should be topworked.

children wear gay colors and big figures, but when we grow up we choose very quiet colors and wear nothing conspicuous outside, but we wear very gay underwear. When an American lady once asked to borrow my Japanese dress, because she did not know how to wear it I helped her and when I put on to her a beautiful silk crepe with a chrysanthemum pattern she was tickled but when I gave her a quiet lavender to put over it she did not understand, so I had to explain to her that we do not wear such gay, showy things outside. So when you come in contact with Japanese women and you feel they are so different from you who are so frank and forward and friendly to others while they are so modest and quiet and timid, they may misunderstand, and you may feel that they do not appreciate everything, but they do—inside. (Applause).

"This Pacific coast is the meeting place of the Orient and the Occident and it is a very good point for working out the highest welfare of human life. Since Japan and America are the two giants standing face to face across the Pacific in the fore front of two diverse civilizations, we must have a friendly understanding of each other's aspirations, needs and ideals. Therefore we are very glad to work for the campaign of Americanization.

"You can give so much to us, and to Americanize our country, but perhaps at the same time you will find something that will be of benefit to you from our side. If I do not flatter myself too much I wish our women could contribute something to you because it is our duty. We do not come to this country to receive and get everything from you and give nothing in return. I myself feel that when somebody asks me to speak I never can say no. Why? Because I owe so much to your country. In the first place I had the privilege of getting an education from your country, and it is my duty to compensate your country by doing something in return, so it is a great pleasure even though a hard task. When I go to a Japanese community and talk about Americanization I always put the emphasis on that. They ought to contribute, even in a small sense, something that will be of benefit to you.

"One of your social workers said of Americanization: 'It means to make this country a place fitted for every one who resides in this country.' and I think she was right. Some broad-minded Americans have not been quite satisfied with the term 'Americanization' because they thought it lacked sympathetic, friendly, neighborly feeling, but it does not matter what we call it so long as we understand the meaning correctly. Through my own Americanization work I have been convinced more and more that this plan will be effective only if you American ladies will render your help in carrying it out by giving your generous, kind, tender hearts to those who come to you as your neighbors. Those foreign populations, and especially the Asiatics who have not had the good fortune to enjoy social privileges, have naturally become sensitive over the social discrimination and it is very hard for them to be free from a consciousness of the discrimination.

"I have the pleasure of doing something to cultivate their minds to respond to your country and I am doing this work not only for the Japanese but because it will be better for the whole country, which would include you. That is really why we are working in Americanization.

"I am very happy to be able to tell you that since we started this Americanization movement last year we have had the co-operation of the Los Angeles City Board of Education for night school work. Last year when we tried to organize classes in English and cooking, for the first time it was offered them in an American school building.

"In our country we have an educational system which is free as far as the grammar schools are concerned, but when it comes to high schools and higher education generally, we do not have such fine free institutions as you have; so when we started these classes the Japanese thought it was too much to accept such favors from you when I went to their homes and told them about it and that there would be no charge even for materials. But they have learned to understand free institutions and finally we had very successful classes. They were so happy to learn to cook American dishes."

The speaker then told of the detailing of a city nurse to take care of the Japanese babies while their mothers were taking the instruction and how badly it worked out because the nurse didn't understand Japanese baby talk, but now it is arranged for each mother to take her turn in minding the babies for 15 minutes and the plan is a great success. Continuing, she said:

"The Japanese people are beginning to realize the necessity of learning your language and your ways. We now have a Japanese Association in Southern California which has taken steps to promote the campaign of Americanization. They have appointed three committees and I am one responsible for the women's part. We are carrying on this campaign not only in Los Angeles, but attempting to cover the whole field of Southern California. So far we have worked in Oxnard, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino and San Diego. We are hoping to cover more ground this fall.

"Everywhere we go they are just waiting for us and so responsive to our plan. My work covers house-keeping, home sanitation, hygiene, care of personal appearance and dress, how to do shopping, how to meet people, and we have thrilling times. (Applause and laughter).

"The other day when we went to Santa Barbara they prepared a dinner for us. I was expecting only Japanese dishes, but it was a combination of the Japanese and the American. They said they had tried awfully hard to do it. Some of the dishes were very good and I was proud of them. I had given them a talk on how to meet people and how to act and how to freely express themselves. That is a most essential thing for them to know, so when they came to the table they thought they had to express themselves and I was so delighted because everybody chattered like you do. (Applause). So you see our effort will not be in vain.

"Here I want to ask your co-operation. We will do our best to cultivate their minds and will try to make them not a menace to your country. We want to make them good neighbors and a fine type of people to be associated with. Of course, it cannot be done in one day. We must have patience and faith and it takes a long time to accomplish anything, but I have faith that the time will surely come when we will understand each other on common ground without any difficulties and hardships. Until that time comes we wish you to co-operate with us—to give us your kind help in this matter. We are sowing the seeds, but it is up to you to make them grow. If they have hard experiences in coming in contact with American people, they will be discouraged and that hinders the work of Americanization.

"I trust you ladies here are so intelligent you are not the type of people to swallow everything the newspapers say. I hope to see the Americans and the Japanese meet together without any bitterness between them and shake hands with friendly feeling. When that time comes I am sure you will realize the folly of ignorance and superstition and will welcome friendliness in its place."

Following the program during the social hour tea and Japanese cakes were served to the special Japanese guests of the afternoon and the members and friends present.

claimed. "Knowing what it would be, I starved in anticipation, and it was worthy the preparation."

Miss Hanson, head of the Domestic Science Department, was then sought. She explained that it was a seven-course banquet and that she was proud of the way in which the girls acquitted themselves in preparing and serving it.

A yellow and pink color scheme dominated the appointments carried out in the floral centerpiece with yellow Marguerites and Cecil Brunner roses. The two colors were repeated in the shades of the candles stationed at every second place and in the nut baskets, manufactured by the girls for the occasion. To relieve the brighter colors, asparagus fern trailed from the central floral piece to the table ends. Everything served was prepared by girls of the department, those who participated in the preparation and serving being: Misses Marian Addison, Lois Percy, Ruth Nicholson, Helen Brinkhoff, Louise McPhie, Margery Ball, Virginia Butterfield, Esther Black, Vida Knapp, Lucile Woods.

While it is always a pleasure to the department to compliment trustees in this way and demonstrate what the girls who are taking this course can do, the annual function has another object,—the invaluable experience which it gives pupils in the preparation and serving of a formal dinner. Covers were laid for seventeen, the guest list including: Hartley Shaw, Dr. and Mrs. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Pulliam, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner of Eagle Rock, Dan Campbell and Mrs. Arthur Campbell, Mr. Young of Eagle Rock, retiring member of the Board of Trustees, Principal George U. Moyse, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howe, Miss Ethel Flood, Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Oliver.
